Mayor Wade Kapszukiewicz
City of Toledo
One Government Center, Suite 2200
Toledo, OH 43604

Dear Mayor Kapszukiewicz:

The following correspondence is to address the Mayoral appointments to the Arts Commission of Greater Toledo's Board of Trustees. Per the agency charter there are to be a total of 18 Mayoral Appointments to the Board of Trustees, which are approved by Toledo City Council. Each Trustee serves a three-year term.

The proposed slate renews four of the recently expired mayoral trustees and moves two trustees from associate status to mayoral. The list of proposed candidates is made of individuals who have been active with the organization as either volunteers, patrons or both. Their skill sets and professional affiliations meet the current needs of The Arts Commission.

The proposed trustees are put forth for new three-year terms, to expire December 31, 2021. This is done to ensure an even rotation of members. We have also included a full board roster for your review.

Please let me know if there is anything I can do to further facilitate this process.

Best regards,

Marc D. Folk

Bio - Ramona Collins

Ramona Collins is a premier entertainer who was born in Toledo OH but grew up in Lansing MI. Based in Toledo since 1969, she worked day gigs until retiring two years ago from her job with the State of Ohio. She is the mother of 5 adult children, 14 grandchildren, and 7 great grandchildren. Always considered an activist, during her time as a state employee Ramona was a union steward, chief steward, president of her local Ohio Civil Service Employees Association (OCSEA) AFSCME chapter, served on two contract negotiation teams, and two arbitration and pre-discharge review committees. She currently serves on the executive board for her union.

Long established as a singing entertainer in Toledo and the Midwest, Ramona wears many hats as a recording artist, songwriter, actress, emcee, radio host, community activist and all-around carrier of the jazz torch in her community. She has organized many events over the years and been recognized for her efforts. Audiences throughout the Midwest have known for some time that this singing entertainer, recording artist, songwriter, educator, mentor, actress, radio host and emcee is one of the region's true music treasures. Known primarily as a jazz singer, she also performs blues, R&B, big band music, gospel, doo wop and a little rock and country.

Although she always sang and performed her shows over the years while she worked a day job, she managed to establish herself as a premier entertainer in the Midwest and beyond. She is an audience favorite at clubs, concerts and festivals wherever she goes and covers all the flavors from honey to hot sauce, whether she is half of a duo or fronting an orchestra. She is considered the real deal.

Ramona views her performing career as part entertainment, part educational. To that end, she has taken aspiring young performers under her wing, supporting, educating and encouraging them and has conducted several master classes on stage performance, one at Oakland University in 2016, the other at the Berklee College of Music in Boston in 2005. "There are a number of young people who have talent and respect for jazz," she says. "I'm thrilled they view me as a mentor...it's inspiring." Toledo is the hometown of jazz legends Art Tatum and Jon Hendricks and it is great to know that we have young people who are interested in carrying the jazz baton that is being passed to them. We have to keep jazz alive in Toledo.

She has recorded two independent albums, "Everything Old Is New Again" and "Live & Lovin' It", which are available for download on cdbaby.com. She is the guest vocalist on the Toledo Jazz Orchestra cd "Out Of Nowhere". Ramona is currently working on original material for her next recording project. Her most recent original piece is a song called "Temporary Home" that she wrote for a benefit for the Aurora House.

Chris Hovan, photographer and jazz writer/reviewer for "All That Jazz" said, after first seeing her performance at the 2001 Ford Detroit International Jazz Festival, ". . . with her robust approach and sparkling personality, Ramona Collins is a regional artist worthy of wider recognition."
