WHEREAS, the brothers currently attend Toledo Public Schools' advanced manufacturing classes which assists with their accomplishments, however, it is their inner drive that keeps them focused; and

WHEREAS, as first-generation college students, Deontae and Deontre have prepared for college since sixth grade with the encouragement of both parents as they desired their sons to have an excellent education; and

WHEREAS, both twins secured full ride scholarships through the Young Scholars Program to attend The Ohio State University where they will study electrical engineering with a minor in business with a goal of owning their own electrical engineering firm; and

WHEREAS, in addition to their educational achievements, the twins each have held two jobs and have completed over 70 hours of community service; and
