WHEREAS, now in its 30th year “Recovery Month” acknowledges the gains made by those in recovery, works to promote new evidence-based treatment & recovery practices, emphasizes the need to share resources and build networks across the country and recognizes the tens of thousands of prevention facilities, treatment services and recovery programs throughout the country in their mission to increase awareness while furthering a greater understanding about the diseases of mental and substance use disorders; and

WHEREAS, Recovery Month highlights the achievements of individuals who have reclaimed their lives through recovery while also encouraging citizens to take action to help expand and improve the availability of effective prevention, treatment and recovery services for those in need; and
